Spanish Federation of Food Banks

Letter from the President

I want to express my most sincere gratitude to each of our 3,238 permanent volunteers and our 229 workers for your dedication and effort during the past year to support our mission: covering the food needs of the vulnerable population in Spain.

Also to the more than 90,000 volunteers who collaborated in the two collections last year.

We started 2023 knowing that it was going to be the final year of the FEAD Program, and that it was not going to include basic foods like oil or milk in its food basket. Food prices continued their upward path until closing at an average of 11.8%, two tenths higher than the previous year.

In this complex scenario, Food Banks distributed a total of 138,046 tons of food through 6,493 social entities in 2023, which reached 1,187,976 beneficiaries, of which 21% were children. Thanks again to the solidarity of society, private companies, Public Administrations and Social Institutions, we have managed to distribute 116 kg per beneficiary during the year.

For yet another year, Food Banks have continued to be leaders in the fight against food waste; recovering and distributing a total of 79,077 tons of food in perfect conditions. To continue being a reference in this field, and thanks to a grant from the Ministry of Social Rights and Agenda 2030, we are developing an innovative project, called PLANB, based on a digital platform that will facilitate the donation of surpluses from donors to Food Banks and social entities.

I would like to thank everyone for your generosity and solidarity to continue our commitment to people in situations of food insecurity.

Pedro Miguel Llorca Llinares
FESBAL President

About us

The Spanish Federation of Food Banks (FESBAL) is a non-profit, apolitical and non-denominational entity founded in 1995, which represents, promotes and supports the work of associated Food Banks in their fight against hunger, poverty and food waste, through distribution to the people most in need, while also contributing to improving the environment.
